WATER PLAYGROUND

A magical forest in the middle of the Styrian thermal spa:
for playing and climbing, for the world's best water fun.

The wooden indoor playground offers unlimited fun on two levels. It is especially children-friendly, mainly using natural materials. The idea was to create a world of experiences with a small magic forest, in which children can let their imaginations run wild.

In the forest there are two slides and small wooden huts with games for learning. To reach them, they walk courageously over bridges, past water cannons and watch out what comes from above.
